Golden Saxophone Quartet

Chairperson for the Day – Sarah Murphy

The rhythms and songs of the Golden Saxophone Quartet will put us in the mood for Christmas. These four musicians began their musical journey in junior high school. After working in non-musical careers three players retired, but the love of music was still there. They met at the University of Dayton's New Horizons Jazz Band group. New Horizons is a music program that lets older people either begin, continue or advance their musical skills. This group has been together since 2015, have acquired over 100 arrangements of classical, jazz, pop, gospel and holiday selections. They have performed in many nearby cities in the Dayton area.

March 2, 2020                      The Thing About Journeys                      Chairperson for the day: Judy Holt
Speaker: Cathy Liggett, Author

When author Cathy Liggett began her writing journey, she never dreamed it would take her across the world or even to Sugarcreek, Ohio. But, as most can relate to, that's what often happens when we dare to step out of our comfort zone. Or—as in Cathy's case and as she will relay—when we are pushed to go places and meet people we never imagined. Also, if you've ever thought about doing some writing of your own, she has a fun exercise that just might spur you on your very own writing journey.
